

The Philippine National Health Research System (PNHRS) is an integrated national framework for health research in the country. It is a convergence strategy that aims to promote cooperation and integration of all health research efforts and stakeholders in the country to ensure that research contributes to evidence-informed health policies and actions.

The Department of Science and Technology (DOST), with the Department of Health (DOH), established the Philippine National Health Research System (PNHRS), through a signing of a Memorandum of Understanding on March 17, 2003. In 2007, the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) and University of the Philippines Manila (UPM) joined as core agencies of the PNHRS.

Vision

A vibrant, dynamic, and responsible health research community working for the attainment of national and global health goals.

Mission

To create and sustain an enabling environment for health research toward evidence-informed health and health related policies and actions.

PNHRS Core Agencies

- Department of Science and Technology (DOST)
- Department of Health (DOH)
- Commission on Higher Education (CHED)
- University of the Philippines Manila (UPM)

Regional Health Research and Development Consortia

The regions are at the helm of the PNHRS. The PNHRS framework is mirrored in all the regions of the country, forming a network of regional research consortia.

To date, the country has 17 Regional Health Research and Development Consortia.

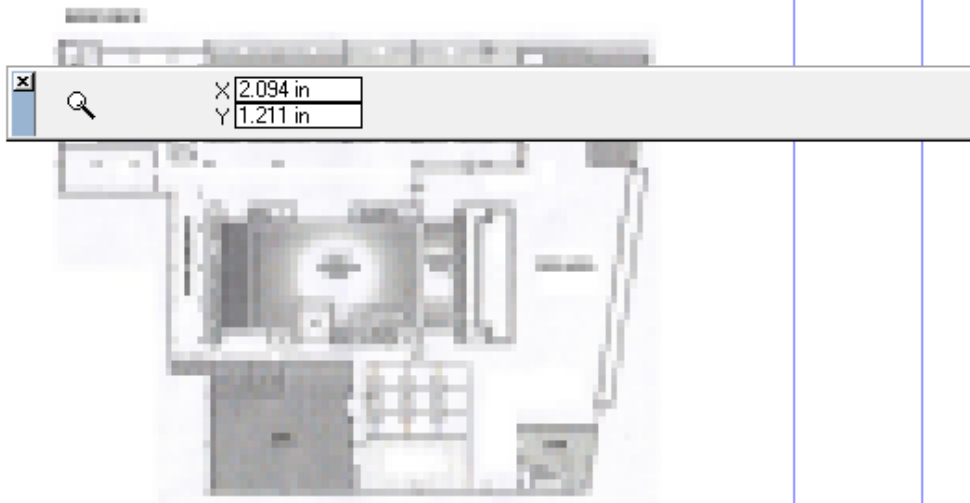

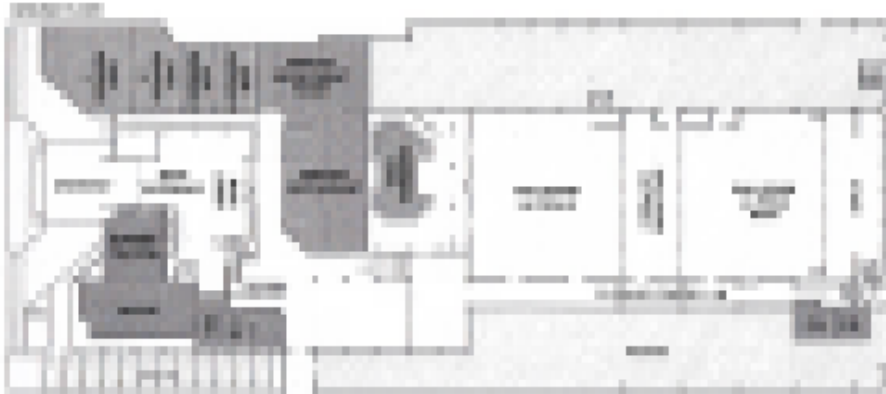

PNHRS Week

Philippine National Health Research System (PNHRS) Week is celebrated every second week of August (Presidential Proclamation 1309, June 2007).

M E S S A G E

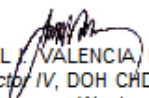

Greetings!

It is indeed with much honor and pleasure that the Western Visayas Health Research Development Consortium (WVHRDC) is hosting the 5th Philippine National Health Research System (PNHRS) Convention here in Bacolod City.

The health sector is now doubling efforts to achieve Universal Health Care (UHC) and the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) toward the attainment of improved health outcomes, financial protection for the poor and greater public satisfaction with the health and financing systems.

Researches provide us with more effective and efficient health interventions which are highly acceptable. Furthermore, researches provide us data and information on the achievement of milestones in health. There is also a need to seriously look into how the fast developments in communications and information technology can be harnessed to enhance delivery of health services particularly in reaching the poor in far flung areas.

The gathering of various stakeholders in this convention will encourage more health researches, that will support better decision making as well as generate interest and resources from both government and private sectors.

Director IV, DOH CHDWV
Chairperson, Western Visayas Health Research
