Objectives of the Presentation

1. Review the historical development of eHealth Philippines
2. Present the eHealth 2012 redevelopment project
3. Demonstrate the eHealth website functionalities
4. Describe the eHealth activities and lessons learned in the redevelopment process

eHealth* Philippines: Background

-Philippine Electronic Health Information Village, an internet linked-community of PCHRD-DOST which was first launched in 1998 and then redesigned in 2003. However, it was deactivated in 2008 due to management and sustainability issues.

-Now, eHealth PH is reactivated and redesigned with focus on the Drug Discovery and Development Program (DDDP) of PCHRD with the help of ADMU IPC and DISCS.

2012 eHealth Project Objectives

To utilize the eHealth platform to facilitate stakeholder convergence and public advocacy for the DDDP towards broader research partnerships and collaboration

Specific:

1. Map existing stakeholders and expert groups working with PCHRD and eHealth Philippines
2. Develop an enhanced eHealth engagement framework and portal for stakeholder convergence and public advocacy
3. Conduct two public forums and online conferences to be hosted at the eHealth portal

eHealth PH CORE FEATURES

COMMUNITY BLOG

- A condensed collection or compendium of health-related resources (articles, blogs, advisories, events) from the eHealth Community.

ONLINE CONFERENCES

- A venue where health enthusiasts, experts, research groups converge and discuss specialized health-related topics (sectoral convergence and knowledge mobilization).

eHealth PH CORE FEATURES

EHEALTH COMMUNITY FORUM

- A venue where health experts and the general public can interact with each other on their health-related queries and other topics.

eHealth PH, an online platform where health enthusiasts and researchers can converge for capacity building, research collaboration, and knowledge mobilization without the constraints of their geophysical location and socio-political affiliations (?).

LESSONS LEARNED

- Online community-building entails sustained facilitation of face-to-face (offline) interactions amongst the identified eHealth PH stakeholders in order to truly weave/connect various health-based communities for the sake of knowledge creation and resource mobilization.
- All the health-related information generated through sectoral convergence (i.e. online community discussions) in the eHealth PH must be translated into concrete actions (i.e. VCO and tawa-tawa discussion summaries endorsed for continuing inputs to PCHRD).

LESSONS LEARNED

- Making more eHealth PH inclusive (in terms of making it a friendlier online environment for health enthusiasts regardless of their geophysical locations and socio-political affiliations)
- In terms of expanding the eHealth PH user-base, less technical discussions must be created.

LESSONS LEARNED

- Managing the portal on a sustained basis might entail public-private partnerships.
- Making it more vibrant rests upon the level of commitment and involvement of its intended stakeholders.
- Building and supporting eHealth communities for the sake of knowledge generation, dissemination, and mobilization involves fostering relationships.
